A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not head work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. This fact puts it in a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and billiousness, ulceration of stomach and bowles and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root; and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Famous Dinners Recalled.

In the traditions of gay life in New York there is no incident more picturesque nor better remembered than that of "The Girl in the Pie." A banquet was in progress in James Breese's studio. The studio was a synonym of luxury. The entertainments given there were Lucullan in character, and a truthful description of them would read like a chapter from "Quo Vadis." In this instance the host had surpassed all his former munificent hospitality.

The "little spread," as Mr. Breese chose to designate it, cost $350 a plate. Artists, architects and men about town, with several women of the "fashionable" stratum of the underworld, were his guests There had been much drinking and little eating, toasts brilliant but requiring expurgation for family use, and the hour was nearing dawn. The guests were trying politely to repress signs of weariness, when the host served his piece de resistance.

Four negroes entered, carrying a huge pie, around which were grouped wax candles of every shade. The negroes retired. The banqueters looked on in amazed silence. Beneath the crust, in in the middle of the table, there was a faint stir, as if from some living thing. At a sign from Mr. Breese the orchestra, concealed by palms, swung into the strains of the old nursery dingle:

Simultaneously the stir beneath the crust increased. It was burst by a movement from beneath, and there rose a slim figure, half child, half woman, who turned a pretty infantile face upon the diners, and stood poised, in her black wrappings, as a bird about to fly, while 24 golden canaries, that had been imprisoned in cages with her, released by her hand, flew about in every direction.

One of the men sitting at the end of the table rose and pressed his way to the middle. He laughingly lifted the girl from the table to the floor. He was Stanford White.

The girl was Susie Johnson, a child model. She then was 15 years old. Immediately after the dinner she disappeared. Her mother sought the aid of the police and the press to find the girl, but they were unsuccessful.

For three years she remained in hiding. When she was found she told a revolting story of mistreatment and desertion by the man whom Nemesis overtook in the midst of lights and music and laughter on Monday night.

"I was lifted from the pie to a seat at the table and found myself the queen of the revel," she said. "It was dazzling for a little while, but in the end it proved a sad queendom.

"Mr. White was kind for a short time, but he went to Europe, and when he returned and I tried to see him he was never in. He had instructed his clerks to get rid of me with as little trouble as possible. I never saw him again."

By a strange coincidence Susie Johnson married, and when her husband learned of the "girl in the pie" dinner he brooded over the episode in his wife's life until he almost became insane. It ended, not in Harry Thaw's way, but by his desertion of her.

Stanford White was known as the originator of at least one of the most daring dinners ever carried through in Philadelphia about six months ago in a resort on Girard avenue, which has since been closed. He stated that he had introduced to Philadelphia the latest novelty in the English fast set, the "strip-jack dinner." As nearly as could be made out by White's rambling description the dinner was attended by about 10 girls and five or six men. Before the dinner games calling for forfeits were played, and each forfeit called for the removal of some small articles of clothing, so that by the time the dinner began the girls' toilettes were in a disturbed condition. Then at the dinner the further requirement was made for the removal of one article of attire for each course served with a prize of large value offered for the one whose clothing longest survived the stripping test.

Ruined by Standard Oil.

Lawrence S. Nicolai, a bankrupt oil merchant of Washington, in an examination before a referee in bankruptcy in that city Tuesday, testified that in 1895 a contract was made between the Standard Oil Company and his brother and himself, operating in the oil business under the firm name of Nicolai Bros., if they would abandon their business. Previous to this time for 10 years the firm had successfully conducted its business in opposition to the Standard Oil Company. The amount agreed on, Mr. Nicolai said, was paid annually for 10 years, or until January, 1905, when, in the words of the witness, "Standard Oil turned me down and refused to renew the arrangement." "They found they could get along without me, I suppose," said Mr. Nicolai. Mr. Nicolai throughout the examination referred to himself as receiving "a pension" from the Standard Oil Company, although he admitted the contract was made with his brother as well. After the termination of the contract Mr. Nicolai resumed the oil business under the name of the National Oil Company, but was unable to make it a success.

Making It Easy and Safe.

This is the easiest store in Alexandria to get money back from in case you want it. In some Washington stores, as you doubless know, the policy is to discourage exchanges and refunds. They all advertise money back if you want it, but you have to want it pretty badly to get it; badly enough to go through a great deal of red tape and bother. Not here. We pride ourselves on making it easy for you. We ask no questions, make no comments. It is done as a matter of your right, not as a favor.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 28, 1906.

THE New York Tribune recently contained the following:

The annual racket has begun and torpedoes, crackers and other infernal devices for making noise and nothing more are in evidence. It is the same old story. Every year we have just such a debauch of senseless racket. After the Fourth of July there are numerous homilies read. An appalling roll is presented of deaths, maimings, fires and other evil results of the senseless katzenjammer; physicians tell us, what we all ought to know without their telling, that such orgies of noise cause grave and sometimes irremediable injury to health; and we will agree in denouncing the practice and in promising that it shall never happen again. Most of the offenders, excepting on and for a week or two before the Fourth of July, are said to be Italians and other foreigners who observe numerous 'saint days" and other festivals, and who celebrate them in this way. They do not know, or do not care, that it is a violation of law, as well as a nuisance. They understand this to be a land of liberty, where every man can do as he pleases.

The calamities last year were as follows: Killed, 54; injured, 3,157; by gunpowder, 706; by runaways, 80; by fireworks, 1,259; by cannon, 294; by firearms, 446; by toy pistols, 373. Total fire losts, $251,317. New York and vicinity, 28 killed or mortally injured. Fires in Manhattan and Bronx, 68, or more than treble daily average. Increase of havoc in Chicago from 1899 to 1903 inclusive: Killed, 9 to 19; injured, 165 to 314; fire loss, $56,000 to $103,000. Chicago totals for five years: Killed, 71; injured, 1,200; fire loss, $895,000. The above figures need no comment. In most of the accidents the victims are thoughtless boys, whose parents if they have any interest in them, should see that they play with more harmless things than gunpowder.

THE pure food bill, emasculated to a hollow mockery, came back from the conferees yesterday afternoon, and will now, probably, be accepted by both Houses and signed by the President, taking its place on the list of important measures passed at this session, for which the republicans will claim credit on the stump this fall. Five of the most essential sections of the bill were stricken out bodily by the conferees. These are sections 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. They empowered the Secretary of Agriculture to fix standards of foods and drugs, secure samples of such goods placed on the maket, seize misbranded and adulterated articles, and imposed penalties for resisting the authority of the Secretary. As the bill now stands the Secretary is practically shorn of all effective administrative control of the food and drug trades. He can do nothing effective to break up the manufacture or sale of misbranded or adulterated goods without recourse to the courts. The administrative officers charged with the enforcement of the law are practically left without power to do so, except after their acts have been reviewed by the courts and the latter have issued the necessary mandates. Weeks, and probably months, will often elapse after a misbranded or adulterated article has been placed on the market before the trade in it can be broken up. The action of the conferees in emasculating the bill is another instance of the difficulty of getting legislation that will protect the whole community against special interests that have powerful friends in Congress.

THE overthrow of the ice monopolists in Toledo affords a hint of which municipal communities will hardly fail to take advantage. It shows that the ice trusts, the coal trusts, the gas trusts, the street railway monopolies and other combinations are by no means so formidable as they look. Says the Philadelphia Record:

Instead of making puling complaints over the unjust powers wielded by these combinations, the part of wisdom is to resolutely attack them and bring them under docile obedience to the laws. People who know and value their rights are more than a match for the most stupendous of monopolies. Great evils when seen through a popular mirage often diminish and finally disappear the more nearly they are approached.

PROFESSOR W. M. DAVIS, a well-known meteorologist, says in "Science" that Lewis Evans, in a book published in 1747, declared that northeasterly gales appeared off the Virginia coast before they reached Boston. The discovery of the fact that storms come from the leeward is generally credited to Benjamin Franklin. He observed and recorded one case of this sort as early as 1743.

ALMOST everything else under heaven having been tried for that purpose, paper is now being made at several places in the South from the stalks of the cotton plant. A prediction is offered by a writer for "The Manufacturers' Record" that the industry will add nearly $100,000,000 to the present value of the cotton crop. We wonder if he will be equally sanguine five or ten years hence!

From Washington.

President Roosevelt received a call this morning from Representative Calder and a delegation from Brooklyn who urged the claims of the navy yard at that place for the construction of at least one of the new battleships provided for by Congress. Thomas B. Peters, Edwin S. Piper, president of the Allied Boards of Trades of Brooklyn, and James B. Wilson, chairman of the joint trades interested in navy yard work, made speeches to the President in which they advanced a number of strong arguments. If the government did not maintain first class yards, they told the President, the Navy Department would be at all times at the mercy of the private contractors. When the President was Assistant Secretary of the Navy one of the speakers said, he was responsible for the department securing generous appropriations for the ammunition which annihilated the Spanish fleets. It is just as vital, they told him, that the goverment have at its command first class yards manned by expert machinists who can at a moment's notice turn out the best work in the world. Just now the Brooklyn yards has a large force of trained machanics which has been selected from the best material in the country. If no work is given the yard, they told the President, this force will be dissipated and when the day of emergency comes, the department will not be able to gather them together again. The President listened to the arguments with great attention and said that he would confer with Secretary Bonaparte upon the subject.

President Roosevelt listened to Senator Carter and two Montana friends this morning who came to tell him what they thought of the reclamation service. "The Government engineers have been working for four years on the surveys of the Milk River Valley project," said Senator Carter, "and they haven't got the job done yet. It ought to take about six months. If the reclamation service can't get down to business, the people of Montana want to do the work themselves." Accompaning Senator Carter to the White House were John Willis, of Glasgow, Mont., and Thomas Everett, of Harlem. Willis is an old time cowboy friend of the President and was invited to take dinner with him this evening. Willis declined because he did not have a dress suit. "I don't care whether you have a spike tail or appear in buckskin trousers," exclaimed the President, but Willis could not be persuded to come.

A dispatch was received at the State Department this morning to the effect that the Guatemalan revolutionists were retiring over the Salvadorean frontier and that the trouble was practically over.

The body of Thomas E. Waggaman, who died near Annapolis yesterday, will be brought here this afternoon. After brief funeral services the body will be placed in a vault at Mount Olivet.

Supervising Architect Taylor of the Treasury Department has completed the plans for the government monument at the Jamestown Exposition and bids for its construction will be called for within a few days. The monument is to be a miniature of the Washington Mounment, 100 feet high.

The arrangements for Secretary Root's trip to South America are practicaliy concluded. But one change has been made in the plans. Mr. Root has decided to take with him a secretary and has selected William T. S. Boyle, of Washington, to act in the capacity. Mr. Boyle speaks Spanish fluently. He was in Venezuela as an agent for the State Department during the negotiations preceding the arbitration of the British, German and Italian claims.

The conferees on the railroad rate bill have reached an agreement and their report will be made to the Senate and House today and adopted. The bill remains as it was reported from the last conference except that the anti-pass amendment has been rewritten. Oil pipe lines will be permitted to carry their own oil. Mr. Tillman, whose opposition to the former report was based upon the belief that the influences of the Standard Oil Company had worked for evil in the pipe line provision, still adheres to his determination to vote against the adoption of the report. He will not sign it either. He virtually concedes, however, that the House will adopt the report today, and that it will be adopted with but slight opposition in the Senate.

Postmaster General Cortelyou today certified to the Secretary of the Treasury his approval of the terms of the proposed purchase of land to be used for postoffice purposes at the new Pennsylvania terminal in New York City. The purchase price is $1,660,085. The conveyance as approved provides among other things that neither steam engines nor any other motive power involving combustion shall be used on the trackage under the postoffice building.

The public building bill passed the Senate today. For the enlargement of the building at Richmond, Va., $200,000 is authorized. An appropriation of $3,000,000 is made for the proposed building in this city for the Departments of State, Justice and Commerce and Labor on Pennsylvania Avenue. The bill as it passed the House, carried in round figures a total appropriation of $21,000,000. The Senate committee increased this by $5,000,000.

Mrs. Kate Maxey and Peter Paul Mesger have been held for the grand jury, charged with being accessories in the death of Claudia Parrish, a sixteen-year-old girl who died yesterday morning from the effects of a criminal operation. The entire Panama Canal Commission sailed today from New York, by the steamer Panama, for the Isthmus. The regular quarterly meeting of the commission is scheduled to take place at Panama on June 1st. The commissioners will probably arrive on the third or fourth and the meeting will be delayed a few days. Among those sailing today were Chairman Shonts and Chief Engineer Stevens, Secretary Bishop. Gov. Magoon is already on the isthmus. In view of the recent Congressional determination of a lock type for the canal, the work of the commission at this meeting will be of great importance. So far the real work on the digging has only marked time. It is forecasted that the ditch diggers will make things hum very shortly. With the final plans to be laid at this meeting of the commission, the officials here say the "dirt will fly" in no time.

President Roosevelt today signed the bill providing for the appointment of the Chesapeake and Delaware Bay Canal Commission. The President will review at 6:15 this evening the National Guard of the District of Columbia. The ceremony will take place on the Ellipse, south of the White House.

The machine was going at high speed when tho tire on one of the rear wheels burst and the automobile was overturned. The Davidsons were throwu out, but Stoneman was caught under the brake-wheel and his skull was fractured. He died in ten minutes. George W. Davidson is said to have sustained a fracture of the collarbone.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate yesterday the day was crowded with business of importance, including an announcement by Senator Proctor of a deadlock in conference on the meat-inspection provision of the agricultural appropriation bill, a reply by Senator Bailey to the recent attack upon him in the Cosmopolitan Magazine, the passage of the naturalization bill, the continuance of Senator La Follette's effort to pass his bill limiting the hours of service on railroad trains, the acceptance of an almost complete report on the sundry civil appropriation bill, and a speech by Senator Warren in support of his resolution relative to the live-stock industry.

Mr. Bailey's reply to the attack was dignified, entirely dispassionate and a vigorous arraignment of Mr. Hearst and the author of the articles which have made the magazine notorious. He said that he did not feel the attack upon him needed a reply, but that he felt it to be his duty to that part of the public who might be deceived by the publication to expose the mendacity of the author and the responsibility and apparent motive of a member of the House of Representatives Mr. Hearst who, he said, owned the magazine and advertised and indorse its attacks. While vindicating himself Senator Bailey also took occasion to make a defense of the late Senator Gorman.

The House concluded and passed the general deficiency bill, the last of the supply budgets.

The conference report on the pure-food bill was submitted at the close of the session and will be called up today.

How to Dispose of Caterpillar Pests.

The easiest and most successful way to get rid of the caterpillars is to destroy them by fire, and the best way to do this is with a corn cob attached to a pole long enough to reach and burn the nests that cluster about in the trees. The corn cob should be dipped in coal oil, and, after lighting it, elevate it to the source of the trouble and hold it there until the nest is destroyed. Numerous caterpillars will drop to the ground, and these should be dispatched quickly so as not to let them crawl away. Of course, this is a little trouble, but there is hardly no expense attached to it, and if it is followed up closely, the trees thus treated will not be impaired and they will be free from this trouble for this year.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and useless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give you One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggies, 75c.

Thaw Declared Sane.

That Harry Kendall Thaw was sane when he murdered Stanford White, as declared by a board of eminent alienists; that the architect still wielded an influence over the wife of the young millionaire and which she struggled to resist, and that White's constant pursuit and slurring criticisms of the beauty drove Thaw to desperation, were the features of the day's development of the tragedy on Madison Square Roof Garden in New York Monday night.

Convinced that under the "unwritten code" no jury in the world would convict him on the evidence that will be brought out, his lawyers are preparing to abandon the plea of insanity and insist upon a trial on the evidence. In the event of a trial on the merits of the case revelations of such a startling nature concerning the life of Stanford White as to shock all New York, it is said, must result. His relations with many others besides Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw will be revealed. Mrs Thaw is determined to stand by her husband throughout his present trouble, and she will withhold nothing that might operate to free him, even though she may personally suffer from the revelation.

White's private life is to be investigated by the District Attorney's office in New York. Acting District Attorney Nott said yesterday that he had subpoenaed several of the dead man's closest friends for the purpose of getting at the truth of the reports about White's life that had been made public since he was killed by Thaw. He intimated that he did not propose to allow the counsel for Thaw to get a line on his case by revealing the names of the persons he is to examine about White's alleged Bohemian career. It is evident by this determination on the part of the District Attorney's office to probe into White's life not to make it possible to arouse any false sympathy for Thaw, based on the alleged immoral life of Stanford White, unless the investigation should prove beyond doubt that the allegations against White are substantially true.

Former District Attorney Olcott yesterday admitted that he had received from Mrs. Thaw a number of letters written to her by White. The letters are, Mr. Olcott said, of very recent date and show that the architect made strenuous efforts to induce Mrs. Thaw to desert her husband and resume the relationship which she once bore to him.

The Railway Picnic.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette.

The complimentary picnic (not excursion) given by the Southern Railway to its employees June 26, as far as the committee of arrangements can ascertain, gave satisfaction to nine-tenths of the employees that attended. The grounds were fine for a picnic. We think a person accepting and in some cases even soliciting a ticket for a free ride who could not say anything good should have kept quiet. The shop employees were told the condition and location of the ground, and therefore should not have expected too much, as for the outsiders they should have been satisfied to get a free ride. The committee did not compel any one to remain in the cars, (see Gazette of the 27th). We do not think the company should be criticized on account of rain. That the dancing was enjoyed by a number of the party was attested by keeping it up until a short time before the train came after us. Four of the committee remained on the grounds until all were safe on the cars.

Today's Telegraphic News

Yale Wins.

New London, June 28.—Bright and fair broke the day for the annual Harvard-Yale regatta, and the thirty thousand people who swarmed here to line the old Thames course and cheer the crews to victory, predicted a fine day. Weather and water conditions were just what the crews had been praying for.

The bookmakers quoted the betting on the big race at evens this morning, while Harvard had a slight call in the betting on the freshmen eight oared race. There was plenty of Harvard money in sight this morning, but as the Yale admirers do not get here in any numbers until later there was some Harvard money uncovered.

An enormous crowd witnessed the race and the greatest interest was manifested.

Yale won the freshman eight-oared race after a splendid and gallant struggle, which kept the admirers of both crews in a ferment of excitement from start to the finish.

Yale won by nearly a boat length. The sons of Eli made a strong finish, overcame the lead of Harvard, and ran their boat quickly ahead of the crimson boys, all within two hundred yards of the finish. The Yale crew finished strong and rowed away to their headquarters while three of Harvard's crew collapsed in their boat. Yale's time for the two miles was 10:39 2-5.

Harvard's time was 10:41 flat. After a false start, the crews got off about 10:34, with Yale in the lead, and both rowing a steady even stroke. There was little change in their positions until near the mile when Stroke Bul Bolton Cutler of Harvard crew set the pace of the sweep and the Harvard boat shot out in the lead. The crews of Yale maintained a steady stroke and made no effort to overcome Harvard's lead until within 200 yards of the finish line. Then Stroke Meyer hit up the pace, and the seven men in the Yale boat bending their backs to the task, gave several long quick sweeping strokes which shot out their boat to the fore. Harvard had shot her bolt and a vain effort was made to spurt, but Yale had the race in her hand, and won by three quarters of a boat length.

The Varsity four-oared race was the next in order. The distance is two miles. Yale won by 8 lengths.

Thaw Indicted.

New York, June 28.—The coroner's jury in the Thaw case after three minutes' deliberation, returned a verdict this morning finding that White came to his death from cerebral hemorrhage as the result of a pistol shot wound in the skull inflicted with a revolver in the hands of the defendant Harry K. Thaw.

Harry Thaw spent a good night in his cell. He slept well, and was in good condition this morning to face any ordeal or situation that the day might bring forth. He arose at 6:30, took a sponge bath and then breakfasted on boiled eggs, toast, and coffee. After eating he lit a big black cigar and read the morning papers until summoned to appear in the coroner's court.

It developed today notwithstanding the stories that have been told about White's alleged pursuit of Mrs. Thaw, that the District Attorney's office intends to show if possible that the real pursuit was on Mrs. Thaw's part. Friends of White say that he avoided her and that there are notes in existence which show that she sought him.

The examination of Stanford White's body by Coroner's Physician Lehane has developed one thing, and that is that at the time of his death, White was in such condition that he could not had lived more than a year or two. The lungs and kidneys, the examination showed, were in bad shape.

New York, June 28.—The grand jury this afternoon filed an indictment with Judge Cowing in Part 1. of the Court of General Sessions, charging Harry Thaw with murder in the first degree for the killing of Standford White on Monday night. The indictment is purely formal and contains only one count. Thaw will be arraigned in court tomorrow to plead to the indictment.

The funeral of Stanford White today was hurried an hour in order to avoid crowds of curiosity seekers. It was announced to leave his former residence at 121 East Fifty-fourth street for St. James at 9 o'clock. The start was made at 8.

Mrs. White had gone to St. James earlier. The son, Lawrence White, accompanied the body. Hundreds of curiosity seekers hung about the residence for hours unconvinced that they had been outwitted and then disappeared.

In Battle With Eagle.

Pottsville, Pa., June 28.—J. W. Haywood, 18 years old, was attacked by an eagle while he was picking huckleberries on Tumbling Run Mountain yesterday. Haywood saw the huge bird swoop down beside him and seize a rabbit in his talons. The young man kicked at the bird, which dropped the rabbit and attacked him. Then he picked up a club and struck the bird several blows. The eagle in the first swoop at Haywood clutched one side of his pail with its talons and dashed it and the huckleberries it contained to the ground. For fifteen minutes the bird fought Haywood. It was knocked down twice, but renewed the battle with vigor. When the eagle finally flew away with blood streaming from its badly battered head Haywood was about exhausted. The youth's face and hands were bruised where the bird's wings brushed him, and his clothing was torn by its talons.

Double Explosion.

New Brunswick, N. J., June 28.—Eight persons were hurt by a double explosion at the store and house of B. Frank Samsel, at Sayreville, a small town 8 miles east of here, last night. About eight o'clock Mr. Samsel struck a match to light the big kerosene lamp in front in the store, when the lamp exploded. The burning kerosene was scattered in all directions. A second explosion occurred which blew out the front and side of the store. This was caused, it is thought, by the explosion of some fireworks which Mr. Samsel had in the centre of the store and which must have been set fire by the burning kerosene of the first explosion. The store was completely wrecked. The proprietor was badly burned and injured by flying glass. Several other persons were injured.

Dry Dock Dewey.

Singapore, Straits Settlement, June 28—The drydock Dewey bound from Chesapeake bay for Manila, which arrived here a few days ago, started for Manila today.

Execution.

Westchester, Pa., June 28.—For the murder of Michael Shire at a Hungarian wedding festivity in Phoenixville this county, November 12, 1904, John Bodnar, aged 20 years, was executed on the gallows today in the Chester county prison in the presence of only the officials, physicians and the jury provided by law. Death was almost instantaneous. Bodnar's neck broke in the fall. On the night of the murder, Bodnar and his victim got into a quarrel, as to which should dance with one of the women. Bodnar left the house, but soon returned and, drawing a revolver, deliberately shot Shire four times, the last time while the wounded man lay on the floor. Shire died in a short time and in the attempt to arrest Bodnar, he was shot in the back of the head. Bodnar ascended to the scaffold platform with a firm step. He was accompanied by Rev. Father Shalding, of St. Agnes church, and keepers Clower and Hall.

Tin Pails Cost As Much As Lard.

Kansas City, June 28.—Inquiry at the packing houses yesterday disclosed the fact that the price of the tin buckets in which lard is packed is included in the charge for the lard. "On three-pound tins one cent a pound is added to the price of the lard to pay for the bucket," said a packing house man. "On larger pails from one-half so one-fourth cent a pound is added. This has always been the custom, and the packers make no denial of it." According to this figuring the bucket for a three-pound pail of lard at 13 cents a pound and nine ounces missing is worth seven cents. So, as a precaution to save the three cents tor the pail, the customer is charged seven cents for lard that he fails to get.

Russia Seizes Aland Islands.

London June 28.—Diplomatic circles regard the reported seizure by Russia of the Aland Islands, which control the mouth of the Gulf of Bothnia, as serious and likely to breed trouble. The reason given by Russia for the seizure is said to be that the residents of the island have supplied arms to the Finlanders. The next move of Sweden is awaited with interest, as the islands are only sixty miles from Stockholm, and form an important strategic position. The treaty of Paris, to which Great Britain and Russia are signatories, directed that the islands should not be fortified.

Dug out of Trench.

New York, June 28.—Herman Fisher, aged 30, of Clifton, S. I., who has been imprisoned is a sewer trench ten feet deep with only his head above the ground, from four o'clock yesterday afternoon was finally dug out at nine o'clock this morning. He seemed to be none the worst for his experience. The work of rescue was continued throughout the night, and it was thought at one time that Fisher would succumb from exhaustion, owing to the pressure of the earth upon his body. The rescuers had to scoop the dirt out with their hands.

Trio of Women Bathers Drown.

Watertown, N. Y., June 28.—Three young women, Alice M. and Jennie Burgess, of this city, sisters, aged 18 and 17, respectively, and Mabel Love, of Gouverneur, were drowned in Star Lake late yesterday afternoon. The girls, who were employed as domestics at the Star Lake Inn, were bathing and went beyond their depth.

Ambassador Reid.

London, June 28.—It is rumored in society circles that United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James Whitelaw Reid will not continue the ambassadorship for more then a year longer. Rumor also has it that before Mr. Reid returns to the United States the engagement of his daughter to an English peer will likely be announced.

Mutinous Regiments.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—Two entire companies of the mutinous Preobagansky regiment have been placed under arrest in the village of Medved where they will be held pending an inquiry into their insubordination.

Mr. Emery and the Governorship.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 28.—Governor Pennypacker does not believe that Lewis Emery, jr., who was nominated for Governor by the democrats yesterday, will accept the nomination on the platform adopted. The Governor said: "I assume that Emery is not in favor of the election of Mr. Bryan and that is in favor of the State constabulary act. I do not see how he can undertake to represent those principles. I think he will decline."

New York Stock Market.

New York, June 28.—The chief factor in the market so far today has been the liquidation at the opening and in the first few minutes of speculative holdings brokers doing the largest business said that the calls for margins sent out last night were almost without precedent, and the response was to sell on the stocks carried. It was this selling that was the dominating influence at the opening. About 10,000 shares were sold here in the first hour for London account.

Washington, June 28.

SENATE.

The Senate today received a communication from the Interstate Commerce Commission announcing that it could not, at this time, report its findings of fact and conclusions in the investigation of the coal and oil carrying railroads as called for in a recent resolution. It states that the information will be sent in without delay. It already comprises over 9,000 pages of testimony and a large mass of data.

HOUSE.

The House today adopted the conference report on the bill to define the immunity of witnesses and then agreed to a resolution permitting the committee on elections No. 2 to take more testimony in the contested election case of Jackson versus Smith, of the First district of Maryland.

Representative Sherman in the House today, asked unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the conference report on the railroad rate bill.

Democratic floor leader Williams, objected, insisting that the report be printed in the Record before the House is called upon to act upon it.

Speaker Cannon, today, laid before the House, a letter from Representative Tim Sullivan of New York City, announcing that he had laid before the Governor of his State, his resignation as a member of the House.

Ice Magnates Beg for Mercy.

Yesterday afternoon attorneys for Messrs. Beard and Lemon, two of the ice men now in jail at Toledo, O., for unlawful combination, fined a motion in Court asking for a reduction of sentence on the ground that their clients cannot pay the $500 fine assessed against each of them, that their business is suffering because of their incarceration and that the company of which they are managers agrees to reduce the price of ice from $10 to $7.20 a ton, thereby meeting the requirement of the Court to make restitution to their patrons. The Court refused to release the two men on bond pending action on the motion.

Butter Storage Experiments

Extensive experiments in the making and storing of butter, made in the last eight months by the Agricultural Department, reveal the fact that light salting, low temperatures, full tubs or cans, to eliminate air, and cream received at the creamery in a perfectly sweet condition, gave by far the best results for storage butter. Butter made from sour cream kept as well while in storage at low temperature, but rapidly deteriorated after being taken out, making it entirely unsatisfactory. Butter heavily salted did not keep as well as that with little salt.

Police Commissioners.

The meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners was held last night in the Common Council chamber. Mayor Paff presided and Commissioners Hill, Fisher and Oehlert were present.

The Mayor stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of allowing Lieutenant Smith an opportunity to refute certain charges which had been made against him

Rosie Moore was the first witness sworn. A statement made by the woman April 10 was read and she acknowledged its correctness.

Eva Baker followed. Her testimony was substantially the same as that given before the commissioners on April 10.

Frank Roberts also repeated testimony previously given by him

W. W. Simpson and Officer Sherwood testified, but their evidence was of minor importance.

Frank Phillips testified that he was in Rosie Moore's house some time ago when she offered Lieutenant Smith money, and that the latter refused to accept it, remarking that she did not owe him anything.

Lieutenant Smith read a dispatch he had received from Rosie Moore recently requesting him to send a tugboat down the river to bring her ark to this city, it being reported that her husband had died on the boat.

Mr Phillips said the lieutenant asked him to take his tugboat down the river and tow the ark to Alexandria, but he could not comply with the request.

Annie Thompson testified to being present on one occasion when money was offered Lieutenant Smith by a woman of north Lee street, which the lieutenant declined to receive.

Thomas Chauncey, assistant State assessor, testified that he went to Rosie Moore's house on north Lee street for the purpose of assessing her property. She told him she was receiving $7 a month for certain houses, but he subsequently learned that the woman was receiving twice that much a week for her houses.

Captain Amiss and Detectives Horn and Flathers, of the Washington police department, were successively put on the stand. They all knew Rosie Moore and expressed themselves as unwilling to credit anything she might utter One of the witnesses said the woman attempted on one occasion to bribe him by offering him $50, when he ejected her from his office.

Several witnesses testified to granting several financial favors to Lieutenant Smith before the first of each month, which was intended to prove that he was solely dependent upon his salary for a livelihood.

The Moore woman was again called to the stand when she failed to substantiate the statement made by her on the 10th of April when she alleged she had given the lieutenant money. This action on her part tended to impair her subsequent avowals.

The board later adjourned subject to the call of the Mayor.

The Public Schools.

The closing exercises of the public schools were concluded for the session last night when the teachers and pupils of Hallowell School, colored girls, held their celebration at the Alfred Street Baptist Church. The programme was as follows:

Alexander Truatt; song, "Child's Prayer;" opening address, Hilda Madden; song, "Old Ironsides;" dialogue, "The Chick," Mary Dulany and others; song, "Let Laughter Ring;" dialogue, "The Lessen the Flowers Taught," Theresa Green and others; song, "The Old School House;" distribution of certificates in divisions Nos. 6 and 7; song, Freedom's Glorious Song;" distribution of certificates in divisions, Nos. 4 and 5; song, "Summer;" distribution of certificates in divisions, Nos. 2 and 3; song, "Bonny Flag;" distribution of certificates in division, No. 1; song, "Old Winter;" presentation of medal; superintendent's address; song, "America;" closing address, Essie Greene; song, "Adieu."

The following pupils received cards of honor in the principal's room: Estelle L. Arnold, Susie C. Anderson, Vergie M. Blair, Lottie B. Burke, Bessie E. Baltimore, Lelia G. Cole, Louise P. Felton, Maud G. Holmes, Martha A Hlomes, Helen F. Johnson, Lillian A. Jackson, Bernice C. Lumpkins, Iola A. Lott, Mattie K. Lane, Nellie B. Lane, Alice M. Monday, Katherine P. Murray, Mabel Robinson, Connie C. Smith, Sallie R. Sheppard, Amanda F. Webster, Ruth V. Whiting, Louise F. White. The Superintendent's medal was awarded to Maud G. Holmes.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Jeffers, of Trinity M. E. Church. Many friends and acquaintances of the contracting parties attended the wedding.

Threw Bottle at Woman.

Among the cases before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning was that of John Cooper, colored, who had abused a colored woman named Viola Fleet and hurled a beer bottle at her. Cooper was fined $10. He had been arrested by Officer Jones.

Case Heard in Alexandria.

Judge E. S. Turner, of the new circuit composed of the counties of Loudoun, Fauquier and Rappahannock, was in the city today, and heard argument in the case of the Phœnix Insurance Company vs. Grubb Bros, and Moore, Clements & Company. This is a motion to dissolve an argument recently granted and the case is a controversy between the insurance company and Moore, Clements & Co., as agents in Leesburg. Messrs. J. H. Alexander and Cecil Connor represented Moore, Clements & Co. Mr. E. E. Garrett represented Grubb Bros., and Mr. R. W. Moore represented the Phœnix Insurance Company. The case was set for a hearing in this city because Alexandria is easy of access to all the parties interested in the suit.

Arguments were still being made when this report closed.

The Feast of Sts. Peter and Paul

Tomorrow will be celebrated throughout the Catholic world as the feast of St. Peter and St. Paul and by order of the Pope the obligation of abstaining from flesh meat on that day has been dispensed with. The occasion will be celebrated with great pomp and ceremony by Catholics all over the world, as the day is second only to Christmas Day in the Catholic calendar. As is well known, Catholics are strictly prohibited from the use of flesh meat on Fridays, and the only known instances heretofore when flesh meat was allowed to be partaken on Friday was when Christmas Day and New Year's fell on that day.

The Neabsco Bridge.

The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac officials report that "the trouble" at Neabsco creek has about been remedied, and that the fill and bridge there will soon be completed.

Neabsco creek runs through a marsh, which, from the amount of earth that has been dumped into it, seems to be bottomless. For month a large force of men have fed earth to the hungry Neabsco marsh until now at last its hunger has been appeased and the fill is holding. The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac engineers, however, are taking no chances, but are waiting to see if the work will stand before putting in the bridge With the work completed at that point the short, quick route from Richmond to Washington will be practically in operation, although it may be some months before the new quick schedule is put into effect.

Henry Street Track.

A work train was running over the Henry street railroad track this morning. The train at an early hour proceeded north of the Bell-Pre Bottle Works where ties and rails were unloaded. A connection with the Washington-Southern Railway will be made as soon as possible. It is said that the gatemen will be reinstated on Henry street tomorrow.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

New Books for Summer Reading

"The District Attorney,"

BY WILLIAM SAGE

A strong, timely, skilfully written novel of present day political and financial life in which a son of high ideals is arrayed against his father, the head of a powerful combine.

"Woman's Wit,"

What a girl's wit, sharpened by American education and backed by western independence, can accomplish in the field against powerful conspirators for whom the stake is a throne and the lives of men are mere pawns, is the theme of this story. By her cleverness, resource and courage she makes her way through a succession of adventures as startling as they are novel and mysterious.

"The Builders,"

BY WILLIE G. EMERSON.

A thrilling story of Western life. The discovery of a gold mine is the central theme, and about the heroine who assists in the discovery, is woven a beautiful story of love's conquest.

"The Race of Life,"

BY GUY BOOTHBY.

A vigorous story of the Australian bush told with all the wealth of Guy Boothby's picturesque and exciting language.

"Susan Clegg and Her Neighbor's Affairs,"

BY ANNIE WARNER.

The inimitable Susan Clegg and her neighbors, including Mrs. Lathrop, are even more irresistible in these new stories than in the first series, which gave the author a reputation of the highest rank among American writers and humorists. This new volume includes a four-part story, "The Wolf at Susan's Door," and a two-part story, "Mrs. Lathrop's Love Affairs."

Buried in Sand and Soapstone.

Jeremiah Fisher, a plumbers' assistant, yesterday near Tompkinsville, Staten Island, was buried to his neck in sand and soapstone, which held him like a vise for more than six hours. Late last night, when some progress was being made toward his rescue, he was unconscious, and physicians who had been waiting hours at the spot, said he could live but little longer.

A shaft had been sunk by workmen between street car tracks on the Richmond turnpike to a depth of about twenty feet to make a connection. Fisher was at work at the bottom of the shaft making the connection, when a passing trolley car caused a mixture of sand, soapstone, and clay to fall back into the excavation.

Fisher shouted for help and tried to climb out, but was caught by the earth material, which rose until only his head was visible.

After workmen had tried in vain to rescue him with ropes and planks, firemen descended into the shaft, but every would-be rescuer sank so deeply into the shifting sand as to endanger his own life.

Finally a rope was fixed about the suffering man's chest, but he could not be pulled even an inch upward. The firemen then sunk a sheathing of planks about him, but this allowed little room for work with shovels.

Meantime, doctors, nurses, and an ambulance had been waiting for hours to render aid. Refreshments and stimulants were lowered to the man, but after a time he lost consciousness. A great crowd watched the work of rescue, which proceeded by lantern light.

A Miraculous Cure.

The following statement, by H. M. Adams and wife, Henrietta, Pa., will interest parents and others. "A miraculous cure has taken place in our home. Our child had eczema 5 years and was pronounced incurable, when we read about Electric Bitters, and concluded to try it. Before the second bottle was all taken we noticed a change for the better, and after taking 7 bottles he was completely cured." It's the up-to-date blood medicine and body building tonic. Guaranteed. 50c and $1.00 at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Blown From Sailboat

Theodore H. Perry and Harry Rogers, two Detroit young men, had a miraculous escape from death late yesterday, being blown out of their sailboat by a terrific explosion while they were sailing near Fox Island, at the mouth of the Detroit river.

The young men were passing a small island at the head of Fox Island, the smaller island being used by a contracting firm for the storage of explosives used in dredging and blasting operations. The powder house was wrecked and windows were broken as far away as the Canadian city of Amherstburg. It is not believed that there was any one in the powder house at the time.

The two yachtsmen, Perry and Rogers, were rescued by a small boat that hurried to their aid. Perry's clothes were entirely torn from his body by the shock and Rogers was partially disrobed, but when the two young men were taken to Amherstburg it was found that they had not sustained any injury.

They were both suffering from shock and both had sustained severe cuts. Their boat was literally blown to splinters. Perry and Rogers had been shooting at objects on the islands along their course, and it is said they did not realize any danger when they took the powderhouse as a target, one of their revolver shots striking the dynamite compartment.

You cannot induce a lower animal to eat heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself, and gets well. The stomach, once overworked, must have rest the same as your feet or eyes. You don't have to starve to rest your stomach. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA takes up the work for your stomach, digests what you eat and gives it a rest. Puts it back in condition again. You can't feel good with disordered stomach. Try Kodol. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Notice is hereby given that the tax-bills for 1906, are now in the hands of the collector. The attention of parties interested is respectfully called to the following extract from the revenue bill of this year:

"Upon all bills paid in full by the 1st day of July, 1906, the collector of taxes shall allow a discount of ten per cent., and on all bills paid by the 1st of September, 1906, he shall allow a discount of five per cent, and on all bills not paid by the first day of December, 1906, there shall be assessed and collected a penalty of five per cent upon the amount of said bills, and on all bills remaining unpaid on the 1st day of June, 1907, damages at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be paid."

Tax payers would do well to call and pay at once in order to avoid the rush and crowd usually present on the last days in which the discount is allowed.
